

NEW YORKISMS.

From Our Own Correspondent. NEW YORK, August 20, 1893. Had I the opportunity of addressing the New York public I should advise it to keep its "eye peeled" for the purpose of noticing the "Frightful Discrepancies" which, during the next fortnight, may be expected to invade all the departments of the principal New York journals. You ask me why, I tell you. On Wednesday evening about a dozen different newspaper correspondents left this city for Halifax. If I were to say that they represented the gifts and graces of the entire New York press it would be rather unfair to those who remain behind. They go for the purpose of doing Prince Arthur upon his arrival there, and will be joined by about half a dozen of the most accomplished Bohemians of Boston.

The New York newspapers have been hearing very heavily upon Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, but not one whit more so than that reckless magazine deserves. Evidently Mrs. Stowe was bent on achieving a sensation, and she has succeeded. She has not succeeded, however, in lifting the veil which concealed the cause of Byron's separation from his wife.

Calumnies against the dead poet, as dark as, if not darker than, those presented by Mrs. Stowe, have heretofore been stealthily breathed in social life; but the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" enjoys the dishonor of having been the first to blazon scandal with the indelicacy of printers' ink. Few will be so charitable as to suppose that she has done so for the mere purpose of vindicating the character of Lady Byron. The truth more probably is that Mrs. Stowe has written so much that she has ceased to write attractively and well, and that she was bound to make herself talked of by doing something extremely unexpected. In the note which the publishers address to the press, they expressly call attention to Mrs. Stowe's article in the Atlantic, and declare that the statements therein are as indisputable as they are new and startling. Messrs. Field & Osgood likewise make the singularly modest request that while they will be pleased to have as copious extracts as may be wished made from the article, it shall not be copied entire, as they are intending to issue it in another form, and would be prevented from doing so should the article be printed elsewhere complete. The World, characteristically disregarding this request, prints the entire article complete. The Tribune makes copious extracts. The Times condemns it in polite denunciations written by Mr. Jennings, the husband of Madame Henriques. Altogether, Mrs. Stowe has achieved a success more disastrous than any failure could have been.

Mareček has been making bricks down in Long Island, and now proposes to make money out of opera in New York. It is probable that Miss Kellogg will be his principal star. The belief that Clara Louise was going to Europe, there to have gifts made her by the Empress Eugenie and the Czar Alexander, and to divide honors with Patti and Nilsson, was a pleasant one—but it was a delusion. It would have been glorious to think that in her American art triumphed, that as lovely an organ had been sent forth by New York as was ever created in Italy or Sweden. That glory, however, we are denied, and I only hope that Max Mareček will be as successful during the forthcoming season in building up the houses at the Academy as he has been successful at Long Island in providing the material for houses there. If his bricks, however, are of the Egyptian kind, that can't be made without straw, I am afraid they will remain unmade, for Miss Kellogg can't provide him with the straw.

The accounts which the English papers give us of "Formosa" are not favorable to that drama, which is to be produced next week for the first time in this country. The most popular engagements made at any theatre in the city will probably be those of Miss Bateman and Mr. Jefferson. Rip Van Winkle has now been presented for three weeks to unabated audiences. When three weeks more have elapsed we shall be expecting Miss Bateman again, presenting our old favorite Leah with that chastened exaltation of sentiment which the experiences of wifehood so often confer.

ALI BABA. THE CHESNUT STREET THEATRE will open early in September, with a new management, a new company, and with a completely reconstructed interior. The changes made in the auditorium have transformed the ugliest, most inconvenient and uncomfortable theatre in the city to the lightest, airiest, and most attractive. The suggestions made in the columns have, for the most part, been carried out, and one of the greatest obstacles to the success of the establishment has been removed by the exercise of a little good taste. The galleries have been moved back several feet, which will give the audience a more open appearance, and allow the audience to look around and see itself. A parquette circle has been added, so that the first floor does not look like a compromise between a meeting-house and a casino; the width between the seats has been increased; and last, but not least, in the estimation of those who have an eye for architectural effect, the ungainly proscenium, with its cheap plaster statuary, has been entirely remodelled. Improvements have also been made behind the scenes, and the house is now a first-class theatre and a credit to the city.

The management of the Chesnut is in the hands of Mrs. M. A. Garretson, well known as the manager of the Walnut for several years. Mrs. Garretson has obtained the services of Mr. George Vining Bowers, the popular comedian, as stage manager, and Mr. John T. Donnelly as business manager. During the summer the manager and her aids have been busily engaged in selecting their dramatic corps, and they have succeeded in collecting a fair company, which ought to go through the season with credit if care is taken to select good plays, and put them on the stage in good style, according to the demands of the modern taste. The principal members of the company, as far as it is organized, are Mr. James Sheridan, leading man; Miss May Howard, from the Crosby Opera House, Chicago, leading lady; Mr. George Vining Bowers, first low comedian and stage manager; Mr. John J. Jack, first old man, and Mr. John T. Donnelly, treasurer.

AT THE WALNUT the drama of Duty will be performed for the last time this evening and to-morrow. On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watkins will commence an engagement, and will appear in their patriotic Irish drama of Trodden Down; or, Under Two Flags.

AT THE ARCH Duprez & Benedict's minstrels will conclude their engagement to-morrow evening. A matinee will be given to-morrow at 2½ o'clock P. M. We yesterday made a mistake in saying that this troupe would close to-day.

HOW MANY LITTLE SUFFERERS are waiting away from the effects of Cholera Infantum, or Summer Complaint, and kindred diseases? And yet a remedy sure, prompt, and thorough, readily administered, and entirely safe, with a reputation established by its merit, and maintained over the whole country for a series of years, can be readily obtained in DR. JAYNE'S CARMINATIVE BALSAM. Why not give it a trial? Sold by all Druggists.

LET US DISCUSS THE GREAT QUESTION.—What is the most important of all earthly blessings, in the estimation of every intelligent human being? Clearly, it is HEALTH, for soundness of body and mind is essential to the enjoyment of all the other good gifts of Providence.

How, then, shall those who possess this inestimable treasure endeavor to preserve it, and how shall those who have lost it seek to retrieve it?

These questions have been asked in all ages, but never have they been so satisfactorily responded to as at the present day; and the answers which common sense, enlightened by science and experience, gives to them in the Nineteenth Century may be briefly stated thus:—To protect the system against all influences that tend to generate disease, there is NOTHING LIKE REGULATION. To re-establish the health on a firm basis, when it has been lost by imprudence or any other cause, the system must be SIMULTANEOUSLY STRENGTHENED, REGULATED, AND PURIFIED.

These ends can only be attained through the agency of a preparation which combines the attributes of a TONIC, a CORRECTIVE, a BLOOD PURIFIER, and an APERIENT. All these essentials are effectually blended in HORTWELL'S STOMACH BITTERS. They contain nothing drastic, irritating, or inflammatory. The juices and extracts of sensitive herbs, roots, and barks are their sole medicinal ingredients, and these are rendered diffusible by combination with the spirituous essence of rye, the purest of all alcoholic stimulants.
